THREE-CAPITALS IN PEACE PARLEY

England, France And Italy
Believed Near To Peace-

(International News Service)
The threat of war in Europe faded today under old-fashioned diplomatic pressure which was in style long before the League of Nations was born.

War in East Africa, however, continued to be a live reality, with Ethiopia charging Italian slaughter of the civilian population and Italy reporting an Italian advance on the northern front and aerial expeditions over Ethiopia on both the northern and southern fronts.

Peace Talks
London, officially declared the Mediterranean tension relieved as a result of the three-capital peace talks of the past 48 hours, but stated Britain for the present would not shift a single ship from the Mediterranean. A joint communiqué is to be issued by Britain and Italy tomorrow aimed at demonstrating to the world the peaceful intentions of both nations in the Mediterranean.

War Staff Of League Approves Boycott Plan

(International News Service)
GENEVA, Oct. 19.—The League of Nations "war staff" of 18 today approved Britain's plan for a boycott of all Italian exports, while six more nations rushed in with formal application of sanctions 1 and 2, the arms embargo and credit ban on Italy.

Still another delay, however, held back operation of the boycott, since the meeting of the coordinating committee of 52 nations, which must ratify all moves of the minor committees, was convoked for October 31, instead of the 29th.

Australia, Uruguay, Sweden, and

India cabled to Geneva that they were applying the first sanctions. The little entente, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, and Yugoslavia, did likewise, acting in concert.

Switzerland and Poland both made reservations before the committee of 18 on the Italian export ban.

Switzerland refused to stop trade with Italy on neutrality grounds, and Poland insisted on carrying out existing contracts.

A comprehensive commercial-judicial system relating to sanctions was discussed by the committee.

Report Anglo-Italian Truce Proposals Are Making Some Progress

ROME, Oct. 19.—Premier Benito Mussolini muzzled his controlled press today, silencing the inspired anglophobia and completely gagging comment on the momentous three-power diplomatic negotiations now going on to allay the tension in the Mediterranean.

This silence—imposed to smooth the road for the "peace" talks—was taken as confirmation that substantial progress is being made towards a reciprocal agreement whereby Italian troops in Libya would be withdrawn from the Egyptian frontier, and a "proportionate" removal of British naval strength from the Mediterranean would be made at the same time.

Work Out Truce Plan
Details of this reported Anglo-Italian truce are being worked out today, and some announcement of a concrete nature is expected after the week-end.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Dear Pa New:
Harold Stanley, of 1331 East Washington street, donated to Gaston Park, a six foot Black snake, which makes a total of three big snakes at the park. While on the subject of snakes, two of these snakes have been at the park all summer and many people were interested in the fourteen eggs that one of these snakes laid, in the last part of August, many persons watched one of the snakes shed its skin. One week before the snake shed its skin it was blind and while the snake was shedding the process lasted a day and a half. As I had these snakes in pens in the open the cold nights have caused their removal into a more protected place as they are practically dormant now.

OWEN PENFIELD FOX
Last night, about 7:30 o'clock, a Ringneck pheasant hen was seen running up East Washington street, near the intersection of Mill. It seemed quite bewildered by the traffic. Pursued by several boys it flew into a store entryway, striking the door and stunning itself.

City policemen were stationed at strategic points last night before, during and after the football game between Chaney High and New Castle. They had orders from Chief of Police John F. Haven to immediately arrest anyone who annoyed players or fans. However, no persons were molested. Police will continue the same practice at future games, it is announced.

Pa New is informed that trespassers entered the garden owned by Mrs. W. A. Bell, 714 Monroe street, on Thursday night and destroyed an entire row of cabbages. The vegetables were torn out by their roots and utterly destroyed. Mrs. Bell is offering a small reward for information leading to the arrest of the culprits.

Quake Shocks Cause Damage In Helena, Mont.

Earth Rumbblings Continue

Panic-Stricken

PROPERTY DAMAGE PLACED NEAR $1,000,000

One Death Is Caused By Quake—Many Buildings Ruined

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 19.—Thousands of Helena residents remained panic-stricken today as earth rumbblings continued to jolt the city after a night of terror following a severe earthquake that took one life, caused minor injuries to a score of persons and resulted in property damage estimated as high as $1,000,000.

City officials said probably 25 buildings were either demolished or damaged. Stocks in stores were strewn about the streets. Bricks, mortar and debris were piled two feet high in the upper end of the business section where the shock caused greatest damage.

Dave Harris, a Negro, was found dead under a pile of brick.

Residences Damaged.
The business section remained intact, with only minor damage, such as broken windows and damaged merchandise.

Heavy restrictions were placed on traffic in the business district. Heavy damage occurred in the residential section in the east part of the city. One apartment house was razed there, chimneys toppled, walls ruptured and plaster shaken from walls.

Heavy damage was done in the warehouse district.

Collapse of the rear walls of Helena high school was estimated to have damaged the building to the extent of $10,000.

Tremors of varying intensity continued at irregular intervals throughout the night.

As the severe shock, one of the series of more than 60 in the past week, rocked the city, chimneys swayed and fell; building walls collapsed.

Motorist Burned To Death, Five Others Injured

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 19.—James English, 45, of Jersey Shore, was burned to death and five men riding with him were injured critically today when their automobile crashed into a parked truck and careened over a 30-foot embankment near Ralston.

All the men were residents of Jersey Shore and were returning from West Albany, N. Y., where they worked in the New York Central shops. The driver of the car, Walter Robb, was believed by state police to have fallen asleep at the wheel.

English suffered a broken back and workers could not drag him from the wreckage where the car caught fire. Others injured were John Hagle, F. R. Nickelson, H. S. Overdorf, J. L. Nevans, and John C. Wool, the driver of the truck.

Fist Fight At Labor Session

John L. Lewis And William
Hutcheson Stage Fisticuffs Today

(International News Service)
ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 19.—A fist fight between John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America and William Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters, drew the American Federation of Labor convention into a wild uproar today.

After an exchange of increasingly violent words in the course of debate on the industrial-craft issue, Lewis approached Hutcheson. A few words more and Lewis suddenly let go a wild right swing and the battle was on.

Women were screaming. Men delegates rushed to the point of the convention floor where the fight was in progress, and after a few minutes of milling around the two leaders of organized labor were separated.

President William Green was pounding futilely for order and the sergeant-at-arms was frantically trying to restore peace.

For a minute it looked as though there might be a free-for-all.

RECEIVES VERDICT
WITHOUT EMOTION

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—For his mad, uncontrolled jealousy, Mandeville Zenge, 26-year-old Missouri carpenter, today faced a bleak future behind penitentiary walls.

A jury found him guilty last night of the strange emasculation-murder of his successful rival for the hand of his childhood sweetheart, Dr. Walter J. Bauer, fixed the punishment at life imprisonment.

His aged father shook as if with ague when the finding was read. Other relatives from his native Missouri hills wept and wrung their hands, but this enigmatic young man whose wild emotions led him to perpetrate the strange and horrible crime, received the verdict without so much as the flicker of an eyelid.

His only reaction was annoyance at being awakened from a sound nap

Young Slayer Dies In Chair

Richard Chapman, 21, Dies
In Chair At Michigan
City, Ind.

(International News Service)
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Oct. 19.—Richard Chapman, who once before had eaten his "last supper"—once had come within 40 minutes of sitting in the electric chair—paid with his life here early today for an $8 murder.

To the last the 21-year-old Gary youth refused the ministrations of the prison chaplain.

He was cheerful as he ate and relished his final meal. He joked with his guards and remarked: "Oh, well, I know how to wait for death. I learned that last time."

Last May 24, he was granted a last minute stay to permit investigation of a "confession" in which he declared that another man had taken part in the murder of Henry Nolte, Ainsworth farmer, who was shot down on his doorstep last New Year's day and robbed of $8. The "confession" later was disproved.

The woman was taken to the New Castle hospital by Mr. Pitzer, and R. C. Clarke, of 726 Butler avenue, where her injuries received immediate medical attention. Her condition this morning was described as fair.

Philanthropy Must Meet Hospital Operation Deficits

This is the eighth of a series of articles by the Board of Directors of Jameson Memorial hospital. The ninth article will appear in these columns Monday.

Our previous articles have recorded the facts of our trusteeship in management of the money matters of Jameson Memorial hospital. We have frankly acknowledged the fact that hospital patients who pay established hospital rates for care they receive do in fact pay more than average cost of their care, amounting to a very substantial contribution toward defraying the expense of care of our sick poor.

This is the practical experience of voluntary hospitals the country over. In our operation of our community hospital, pay-patients—as a group—receive 56 per cent of the total hospital service for which they pay 65 per cent of the total operating cost. Figured on a basis of strict pro-rata, equity pay-patients contribute 9 per cent of total cost of hospital operation for which they do not get value received in form of hospital service. We bring out this point because some of the approximate 8,000 of our citizens who have paid for care in our hospital may remember their hospital bills as unexpectedly large—they may have considered their bills even unjustly large.

We could dodge the point by the adroit method of avoiding its discussion but we are at present engaged in telling the facts of our administration of Jameson Memorial hospital. We regard it as a very important fact that, without charges to pay-patients averaging 9 per cent of total cost in excess of actual average cost, operating deficits would increase by $9,000 per annum or free care to our sick-poor would have to be reduced more than 20 per cent. It might sound like queer arithmetic to infer that 9 per cent of total cost pays the cost of 20 per cent of free-patient care. This fact can be understood when it is remembered that this 9 per cent of total cost is used toward care of 44 per cent of total patient care.

In addition to the fact that pay-patients may enjoy a sense of satisfaction for their contributions to charity care, there are other comforts.

In the first place, as we have said before, over 50 per cent of the pay-patients

"Machine Politics" Of Administration To Be Issue Norris Believes

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Peering into the political future, the veteran Senator George W. Norris, Republican insurgent of Nebraska, today saw President Roosevelt's capitulation to "machine politics" as an issue in the 1936 campaign.

Although he is friendly to the Roosevelt administration, Norris believes Mr. Roosevelt as a candidate will suffer with the people for this reason.

Extravagant Expenditures
He also believes the Democratic party can be justly criticized for extravagant expenditures, and expects President Roosevelt to make the abolition of all holding companies a campaign issue.

"I think there have been some useless expenditures, and the Democratic party can be justly criticized for it, and will be criticized," said Norris.

"It can be criticized for machine control of many appointments. We have a recent example. Postmaster General Farley turned down for re-appointment a faithful postmaster in Boston, who grew up in the service, and put in a politician. I don't

Work Relief Program Far From Success

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The $4,000,000 work relief program, designed to end direct relief by providing work for 3,500,000 jobless was 2,189,267 jobs short of its goal today, with only four weeks left before direct relief is scheduled to end.

To end direct relief by Nov. 15, as scheduled the work relief agencies of the government must provide 547,317 jobs a week or approximately 78,188 a day, including Sundays.

Instead of increasing the volume of employment, however, the number put to work in the last fortnight was fewer than in the preceding two weeks, statistics reported by Aubrey Williams, acting works progress and relief administrator, revealed.

Halloween suggestions and color tones provided a seasonal setting for the group, which appeared in grotesque costumes of every description.

UNIQUE OCCASION IS HOBO PARTY

In rags and tatters, with their lunches tied up in the usual bandanna handkerchiefs, swung from the customary sticks, a motley crowd of hobos had a swell party Thursday evening in St. Joseph's hall on South Jefferson street.

Making their way through crowds of curiosity seekers, the various guests wended their way from all parts of town, as the group really comprised members of the L. C. B. A. Upon arrival, a grand march was in order, with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Anne Seger for the most original costume, and to Mrs. Hazel Sewall for the one most representative of good times.

As a part of the informal entertainment Mrs. E. Mariacher and Mrs. P. Fisher played duets on guitars and there was a unique cake walk by Mrs. L. Frey and Mrs. E. Krueger.

When luncheon time arrived, the hobos lunched about in a big circle on the floor, shivering around an imitation fire, and devoured the hunks of bread, or what had they in the hanks. Some of the more fortunate had received handouts of chicken legs and other delicacies, although one of the group had to be content with just marshmallows as the benefactors at the place she visited were having a party, with these tidbits for toasting.

The party was a big success, everybody having a hilarious time, for which credit is due the committee arranging it: Mrs. M. Brown, Mrs. M. Mulachy, Mrs. J. Katterson, Mrs. C. Mariacher and Mrs. M. Metz.

MISS ARMSTRONG TO WED A. COWMEADOW

A lovely event of significant interest to many friends, was the party given Friday evening, in the Elks Club, by the Misses Mary Armstrong and Margaret Cowmeadow, when they entertained a number of guests at cards, as a medium of making known the engagement of Barbara J. Armstrong and Austin L. Cowmeadow.

The early part of the social period, was spent enjoyably competing for honors in the various contests provided. At conclusion of play, novel prizes were awarded to Lillian Moran for holding top bridge honors, Ellen Shearer for winning in 500, and Eleanor Phelps in bingo.

In keeping with the Halloween season, each guest was presented with a unique hand-painted folder, in miniature, bearing the title on the outside cover, "Book Of The Future." When opened, news of the couple's engagement was most cleverly told, and named, "Thanksgiving Day" as the wedding date.

At a suitable hour, the group partook of a dainty menu served at an attractively appointed table. Yellow and green was the predominating color theme carried out in all the details, and in the center, was a huge bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Armstrong is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Armstrong of Reynolds street, and Mr. Cowmeadow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cowmeadow of Beckford street. They both have a host of friends, who will read with interest, of their coming marriage.

FIELD CLUB PARTY ATTRACTS WOMEN

A most delightful afternoon of cards was enjoyed by many members of the New Castle Field club on Friday, the occasion being listed in their series of afternoon socials during the fall and winter seasons. OUR FARM EXPORTS(?)

COMMENTING on the report of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce concerning exports and imports of farm products to the United States, the Washington, D. C., Herald says:

"While farmers are burning harvested crops to stay within arbitrary limits prescribed by the AAA, imports of wheat, oats and other crops have jumped to a record high point, U. S. Chamber of Commerce figures disclosed.

"Never before in the history of the country have foreign agricultural products so invaded the American market. Statistics show that if the trend continues American farmers will lose not only their fast-slipping export markets, but their domestic markets as well.

"The fact that the United States with its tremendous supplies of meat products, wheat, corn, barley, rye and other staples should be importing them in large quantities probably comes as a shock to many, but here are some of the figures:

"Meat products imported for the seven months ending August 1 totaling 67,202,628 pounds, compared with 32,066,458 last year.

"There were 23,269,074 bushels of corn imported compared to 176,658, and 10,084,107 bushels of oats compared to 173,468. There were 7,907,760 bushels of rye and 4,768,668 bushels of barley imported, according to the Department of Commerce, while the same source discloses neither of these crops was imported for the same period in 1934."

All along the line there has been an increase in our farm products imports. In 1934 we imported no tallow and no cottonseed oil. This year we have brought in over 176,000,000 pounds of tallow and more than 122,000,000 pounds of cottonseed oil. Importation of cattle hides has nearly doubled while we have brought in 66,000,000 pounds of peanut oil against 700,000 pounds in 1934 an increase of more than 1,000 per cent."

Of course the free traders may argue that the amount of our importations is small compared with our total use. Yet they used to talk about the very great importance of the 5 per cent of products we exported as compared with the 95 per cent absorbed in the home market. So they would have you believe that exports are very important but that imports are unimportant in their effect on the producers. There is something screwy about this kind of argument.

The fact is that our favorable balance of trade has been steadily shrinking. If we consider invisible exports of money, such as that spent by tourists abroad and that sent home to relatives by aliens in the United States, the fact is that the balance is against us. What becomes of Secretary of State Hull's argument that we must lower our tariff and get more imports to have more exports because our "favorable" balance of trade is too large? Your guess is as good as anybody's.

A FEW ROUNDS FROM THE AIR

As described by Count Galeazzo Ciano, Premier Mussolini's son-in-law, the trick of fighting from the air is easy, once you master the technique. Upon seeing a group of soldiers on the ground below, "you give them a few rounds with a machine gun. They scatter and hide in the long grass. Then when you fire a few more rounds at random, each of them thinks the bullets are falling near him. They promptly emerge and run in all directions, then you can pop them off in real earnest."

There is no reason to believe this efficient system is practiced only by Count Ciano. Doubtless it is routine strategy in modern warfare. If war was hell in General Sherman's day, what can be said of its inordinate brutality, its unspeakable barbarity, in the era of airplane and poison gas?

THE TIN BATHTUB

At the seventh Antiques Exposition at the Hotel Commodore, New York, there are many objects suggestive of an earlier day, pre-eminent among which is a tin bathtub of the type in which our forefathers determinedly kept themselves clean despite handicaps.

Perhaps there are men and women still extant who have recollections of Saturday nights when the round, tin bathtub was the most conspicuous object in the kitchen when the rite was observed. The children also used an oblong affair, something coffin-like in appearance, in which, if one splashed unduly, the floor had to be wiped up afterward. The result was a spick-and-span on Sunday morning impressive to behold.

"Not far from the tin bathtub at the New York show is an iron stove, of course, for on the stove was heated the water later poured into the tub. The bathtub as we know it today is less than a century old, save in the richest homes. It was in its beginnings of shiny tin, built in. Later improvements painted the tub white and then came the "porcelain" tub, subsequently expanded and bettered to a degree to remind one of ancient Rome and Pompeii at its best. Nevertheless, a whole civilization effected against odds is recalled by the ancient tin bathtub and its companion, the iron stove.

FEAR OF A BOOM

Coming at this stage of our economic history, the fear of a boom, expressed by Charles R. Gay, president of the New York stock exchange, naturally assumes the aspects of a phenomenon. Our fears during the last four years have arisen from numerous and diversified sources, principally those relating intimately to the depression and its correlated social and economic problems. A boom has not been among them and the fact that such a possibility is now a cause of concern provides as conclusive proof as we can desire that the worst of our troubles belongs to the past.

Nevertheless, Mr. Gay's fears are not of trivial moment and those who bring more than a superficial study to the existing financial condition will realize that the present improvement is not an unmixed blessing. Mr. Gay warns that because of the abnormal money market with its "gigantic volume of excess reserves," there exists the danger of a "runaway stock market inflation" and another crash such as that of 1929.

Conditions in the market now, as Mr. Gay suggests, are alluring and the fever of unrestrained speculation may again flare forth. Mr. Gay believes that the situation must be controlled by a "sound Federal Reserve Bank policy and sound treasury policy." Fortunately, however, there are also available for such an emergency the controlling influences of the security exchange act, in consequence of which there is a reasonable assurance that stock prices will in the future bear a closer relationship to actual values and earning capacity.

Some people go crazy, some get knocked silly, and some are just born to enjoy practical jokes.

CONDITIONS are not pleasant in Europe. France asked England to take some of her warships out of the Mediterranean to diminish "tension" and make possible friendly peace talks with Italy.

England says emphatically NO, and wants to know whether France will back up England's ships with the French fleet if English ships are attacked by Italy's men-of-war or airplanes.

England demands that France make her position clear, with England and against Italy, or the other way 'round. It is embarrassing for France. Premier Laval never meant to go as far as war.

HOW DO YOU RUN FOR A TRAIN?

My friend said: "It isn't the physical effort that kills a man who has heart trouble when he runs for a train. . . . It's his anxiety, his mental effort, his excitement over the thought that he may miss it. . . . That's what kills him." I think that must be true. . . . A man's doctor warns him against overexertion, and that warning is good. The doctor knows that the man to whom he is talking is a normal man. He knows the man will not run for a shower bath in the morning, or for a shower bath in the evening, or for a shower bath in the middle of the night. The doctor knows his friend and the exercise would not be harmful for him. But if he ran for a train, or tried to run around the block in one minute, the strain would be too much for him. . . . So the doctor warns against exertion because he knows that almost any of it would be overexertion.

I've heard men complaining of overwork. And I've known other men who do just as much work and don't complain and don't suffer because of it. . . . The difference between them isn't physical. It's in the mind, in the temperament.

Sometimes I've had to do it in a great hurry. I know I had to do it in a hurry, succeeded in finishing it on time—and found myself terribly tired. But at other times I've done the same amount of work in the same time—taking it in stride—and haven't been tired at all. . . . The difference wasn't in the work; it was in ME.

So I know it's reasonably true about the man with the heart trouble who runs for a train and then collapses. . . . And I believe, too, that the amount of happiness and satisfaction a man gets out of living is usually determined by the way he looks at his job, at himself, at his fellows. His happiness isn't in external circumstances. It is in himself!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

COMMON COURTESY

It seems that Mrs. Roosevelt has a finer feeling of justice than does the President.

The President, in the speech which he made at Hoover Dam, completely ignored the efforts of Herbert Hoover, covering a long period of years, which were clearly responsible for the bringing of the Hoover Dam to a reality. The President, coming with Mr. Ickes and Congress call it Boulder Dam, but to many friends of the ex-President, it will always be known as "Hoover Dam."

Mrs. Roosevelt, on the contrary, in her address given on her visit to Los Angeles, at the Hollywood Bowl, gave generous credit to Mrs. Hoover, for her work as Vice Chairman of the National Women's Committee for the Mobilization of Human Needs.

Both the President and his wife have come in for a lot of criticism, naturally. No head of the Nation or his wife have ever escaped it in America. Calvin Coolidge, but Mrs. Roosevelt, by her act in Los Angeles, has risen higher in the estimation of the political opponents of the present regime than did the President by his speech at Hoover Dam.

President Faces Problems. Neutrality Cause Of Worry. Must Save New Deal Also.

Central Press
New York Bureau

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt is on his way home. It is the most momentous home-coming he has as yet had.

He has to decide on two major policies:

1. How far he can push neutrality.
2. How he can save anything of the New Deal.

The administration is believed to be nervous over both.

Business—and even labor—may try to evade neutrality without profits.

The New Deal was scrapped, not by its opponents or the supreme court, but by the administration itself, in order to gain the support of business—but New Deal spending to keep the masses satisfied did not stop. Thus, the question now arises: Shall the administration begin all over again, or muddle through?

NEUTRALITY

The United States is the largest creditor nation. It is not isolated from Europe, or any other region, in the business world. It is bound by a million ties.

When, therefore, the president issues neutrality decrees in a large way (the present ones are minor), will the business world go along? It will not deliberately defy—as on New Deal measures—but unconsciously it will find means to evade the decrees. That is human.

Enduring alliances are not made by governments half so much as by financial interests.

American financial interests have not proved themselves dissociated from governmental moves in Cuba or Central America. And the ties that bind there are not nearly so strong as those that bind to London.

New York and London are the twin financial centers of the world. They have swayed more than one government. The British government today acts in perfect accord with financial London. The American government alternately opposes and goes financial New York. At present, it is acting as if its heart would break if financial New York did not pledge its troth with the administration.

WILL HYSTERIA COME?

The United States is known for one serious weakness—hysteria.

Why we should be afflicted with it, no one really knows. Yet, frankly, we must confess it is a characteristic of the race—and it causes us no end of trouble.

Thus, if some incident should be seized upon by maliciously-intent interests to arouse us, could even a president restrain us?

Mark Twain explained the situation years ago in "The Mysterious Stranger." Dug up by The New Republic, this powerful passage on war reads:

"There has never been a just one, never an honorable one—on the part of the instigator of the war. I can see a million years ahead, and this rule will never change in so many as half a dozen instances.

"The loud little handful—as usual—will shout for the war. The pulpit will, warily and cautiously, object — at first, the great, big dull bulk of the nation will rub its sleepy eyes and try to make out why there should be a war, and will say, earnestly and indignantly, 'It is unjust and dishonorable, and there is no necessity for it.'

"Then the handful will shout louder. A few fair men on the other side will argue and reason against the war with speech and pen, and at first will have a hearing and be applauded; but it will not last long; those others will outshoot them, and presently the anti-war audiences will thin out and lose popularity.

"Before long you will see this curious thing: the speakers stoned from the platform and free speech strangled by hordes of furious men who in their secret hearts are still at one with those stoned speakers—as earlier—but do not dare to say so.

"And now the whole nation—pulpit and all—will take up the war cry, and shout itself hoarse, and mob any honest man who ventures to open his mouth; and presently such mouths will cease to open.

"Next the statesmen will invent cheap lies, putting the blame upon the nation that is attacked, and every man will be glad of those conscience-soothing fables, and will diligently study and rehearse them; and thus he will be by and by convinced himself that the war is just, and will thank God for the better sleep he enjoys after this process of grotesque self-deception."

DOMESTIC SITUATION

President Roosevelt also has a "war" at home on his hands. It is on two fronts—the conservatives and the liberals.

The conservatives plainly say they would wipe out every vestige of the New Deal or change. They would return to "normalcy." They will not go ahead on a half-and-half New Deal. They feel strong enough now to demand complete annihilation—except of the AAA.

That seems to frighten Mr. Roosevelt. He is frightened (if he is) because he has alienated large groups of liberals (who would go to a Borah if the conservatives should lose out in the Republican convention) and hasn't gained the conservatives either.

The liberals are becoming as bitter on their side as the conservatives are on their side.

The president is a dexterous politician and may pull through the 1936 election in fine shape, but there are two potentialities that endanger him:

1. His relief money may give out prior to the election (without people being put to work), necessitating another appearance before Congress, hat in hand. Economists of all shades of opinion, from rigid capitalism to complete collectivism, assert present relief methods can be miserably stop-gaps.
2. Liberals may become so greatly angered over what they term "betrayal" that they may separate into minor parties. They thus may take votes from the president, while not harming the conservatives. The conservatives will be united in one party at least—they will be anti-Roosevelt. Wooling them is looked upon as a vain effort—unless, of course, a Hoover is nominated.

"Be A Friend To Youth"

Don't Fail Our Boys and Girls.

Y. M. C. A.

Serves 700 boys in club activities. 330 of which are underprivileged boys who are served without cost to the boy. 6 High-Y clubs are organized through the schools of the city and county. These are but a few of the high spots of the Y. M. C. A.'s activities.

Y. W. C. A.

1600 girls served through business and industrial clubs and classes. 677 foreign born served in 129 colored girls in clubs. 60 colored babies in clinic. These are but a few of the high spots of the Y. W. C. A.'s activities.

BOY SCOUTS

There are 667 Boy Scouts in Lawrence County. 67 Cubs and 2 Sea Scout Patrols. Court Records show that among all the delinquent boys in Juvenile Court, not ONE in a THOUSAND are Boy Scouts—SOME RECORD! A high spot in Scouting that is worth far more as an investment than the whole $25,000 asked for the three institutions.

Agencies Of Many Kinds Co-operating For Fund Raising Campaign

No angle of approach has been overlooked in the preparations for the $40,000 campaign for the Jameson Memorial hospital. The printed and spoken word have been used and will be used in every possible manner to convince the people of the city and county of the necessity of getting the $40,000. On October 28 Mayor Charles B. Mayne has promised to issue a proclamation calling the matter to the attention of the people; Max Ludwig is arranging to use a number of outdoor boards for poster advertising; M. D. Cohn of the Penn theater is arranging for movie trailers and Paul Fazzoni has charge of the bomb barrage which will be set off on the morning of October 29. Ministers have promised to co-operate in a hospital Sunday, which will be the Sunday before the day of the campaign; the civic clubs are pledged to bring the matter before their organizations; printed matter is being sent out through the schools, and four-minute speakers will address groups of students. Varied as they are, the messages all mean the same thing, and that is the vital need of $40,000 for the Jameson Memorial hospital if it is to continue its fine policy of service to all the people.

The Mayor Calls! Boy Scouts Answer

Test Mobilization Brings Troops To Square At 2 This Afternoon

At the stroke of 2 o'clock this afternoon, the hour Mayor Charles B. Mayne designated, Boy Scouts from troops of New Castle and its environs mobilized at the public square to demonstrate to citizens just how speedily the city's scouts could be assembled in the event of an emergency.

The mayor's official proclamation of last night was the only order the boys received. The 2 o'clock crowd today proved they live their motto—"be prepared."

The Character Chest drive for $25,000, opening Monday morning, will benefit the Boy Scouts here as well as the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

Public demonstrations were to close the mobilization program today.

DISCUSS OBLIGATIONS

Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, president of the Lawrence County W. C. T. U., and Mrs. J. B. McClaren, treasurer, were guests at the home of Mrs. Elta Hill Porter of Slippery Rock Friday afternoon for a business meeting, followed by the serving of a delicious luncheon in the dining room.

Mrs. Porter is the treasurer of the Butler county W. C. T. U. The purpose of the meeting, which was attended also by the Butler county president, was to conclude business relative to funds expended for the recent state convention at Butler. An arrangement had been made whereby the Lawrence county union shouldered a part of the expenses. A final accounting was made yesterday.

It is easy to injure another country. Just think up a scheme to punish success and go there and preach it.

possibility of her siding with Germany against France, which would be a surprise for "our gallant allies, the French."

All this comes exactly 10 years and one day after the Locarno pact was signed so solemnly.

ETHIOPIA'S emperor, Selassie, advises a group of 115,000 warriors, "Don't get hot-headed, because, if the enemy finds you angrily gathering in groups, they will burn you as logs in a fire."

"Don't wash your shammans; let them get dirty and make you less visible."

"After we have defeated the enemy, you can take up your shields and wear clean clothes again."

THE EMPEROR'S reference to "logs in a fire" referred, perhaps, to the Italian "flame-throwing" units already at work.

Also, the emperor said: "Tents must be separated by at least eight meters. (That is to prevent one air bomb killing too many.)"

"If you see an airplane, leave the road or open field and hide in the jungle."

"All soldiers with good guns should then shoot the airplanes."

The last advice is excellent, but "shooting airplanes" is not easy.

not to ship anything to Italy to help crush Ethiopia.

That would cost the United States $137,000,000 a year, but European friends naturally conclude that if we could stand a loss of ten thousand millions dollars in bad debts, in one lump, a poor $137,000,000 would not bother us.

AMERICAN oil men say they will continue selling oil to Italy, first, because they need the business, second, because they have investments in Italy that would be jeopardized; third, because the Royal Dutch-Shell and Anglo-Iranian companies, British-owned and controlled, are supply fuel oil now to the Italian navy and the Italian commercial ships carrying troops and war materials through the Suez canal.

HOWEVER, with President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner, both out of the country, Secretary of State Hull, under the Constitution, is acting President, and he may tell the oil people they may not sell to Italy because HE does not want to encourage brutal treatment of Ethiopia.

BE GLAD that your planet is not revolving around a sun known as the star Nova Herculis. According to astronomers, that star is acting strangely. To be hitched up to it might be unpleasant.

Recently Nova Herculis suddenly increased its brightness one hundred thousand times, acting like a haystack set on fire, then it became so small that only a powerful telescope could find it, now it flames out naked, brilliantly visible to the naked eye.

OUR OWN SUN, billions of years old, occasionally has spots that both radio receivers, but behaves well, on the whole.

So-called "new stars" are unreliable; Kepler, as poor as he was great, made some money studying one of them.

The emperor was interested because he thought the flaming new star had something to do with his earthly plans. He was mistaken.

IN RUSSIA be careful what you sing. Two leaders of a band of Russian minstrels are sentenced to death in Moscow because, to the accompaniment of guitars, they sang songs hostile to Soviet government.

Russia proposes to "write the songs of a nation" for herself. If you sing in Moscow, be careful to sing "Arise, ye prisoners of starvation, arise, ye wretched of the earth," even if you happen to live in a good hotel and are not hungry.

MUSSOLINI made Selassie's son-in-law who deserted to the Italians "Prince of Tigre," the Ethiopian province that Halle Selassie Gugsu ruled under his father-in-law.

This sound diplomacy is not unlike that of the Japanese, making the heir to China's throne a puppet ruler in annexed Manchukuo.

IN NEW YORK STATE, the Bakers' Association thinks it will have to add one cent to the price of a loaf in order to "keep in the black and out of the red." That one cent, according to the bankers' spokesman, would represent all the profit.

The bread consumer will be interested in a statement of the "manufacturing bakers" that "bread has fifty-three different taxes on it."

Curfew Hour May Be Set At 8 Police Warn

Chief of Police John F. Haven stated today that boys' actions may result in the curfew hour being placed at 8 p. m. instead of 9 p. m., as at present. At least, he will give the boys several days time to decide whether they will persist in doing damage and automatically set the curfew hour at 8 p. m. or cease doing damage and be permitted to remain out until 9 p. m.

During the past few nights police have been literally "burning up gasoline" in cruiser cars in replying to complaints from residents in all sections of the city. Most of the calls have been from persons or automobilists who have been pelted with tomatoes or other vegetables—which has resulted in damaged clothing and automobiles.

In discussing the situation today the chief said:

"Not all of the boys act like rowdies. There are a great many good boys who want to stay out until 9 p. m. and do not condone vandalism. These boys ought to try and persuade other boys not to become disorderly."

Ethiopians Have 400 Casualties In Battle Near Adowa

Thirty Five Italians Are Killed And Wounded In This Battle

By FLOYD GIBBONS International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

ASMARA, ERITREA, Oct. 17.—(7:30 p. m.) (Via Rome. Delayed)—The Italian army press bureau announced officially today that it now has been verified Ethiopia suffered 400 dead and wounded in the battle of Gasciochi, preceding the Italian occupation of Adowa.

Thirty-five Italians were killed and wounded in this battle, including both black and white troops. Four minor chiefs of the Entisio plateau surrendered to the Italians. One of them called Gasci, a leader at Ambaughar, was considered by the Italians to be important.

Count Galeazzo Ciano, son-in-law of Premier Mussolini and leader of an important air squadron here, was fired upon during a recent scouting flight.

One of the three motors of his big bomber quit, presumably because it was struck by an enemy bullet, but Count Ciano returned here safely on his two remaining motors.

Tall Rosena Stack Will Be Levelled

Plan To Wreck 185 Foot Chimney Standing Alone On Site For Years

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company, formerly Carnegie Steel, expects to wreck "within a very short time" the towering 185-foot-high concrete stack at the old Rosena furnace grounds, it was learned today.

"The company is figuring on bringing the giant stack down soon," J. M. McMillin, custodian here now for Carnegie-Illinois properties, informed The News. "When I cannot say."

He indicated the tall stack, standing monument-like in the cleared Rosena grounds for the past eight or nine years, would be dynamited to the ground.

During the past week or so Carnegie-Illinois engineers and others have inspected the immense "chimney" to look for some of the problems that might be faced in bringing it down.

Visiting circus organizations have used the old Rosena grounds, now called Carnegie field, for show purposes since the company buildings were removed.

While the Rosena stack rises to a height of 185 feet above the ground, its solid concrete base, it is said, extends some distance underground.

Dear Quotarians:—

At our usual dinner-meeting Monday evening, at the Elks club, we will welcome any guests you care to bring.

Our program is to be most interesting and unusual. In recognition of the 56th anniversary of Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp, A. Paulus, division engineer of Westinghouse company, will speak to us on the subject "The World of Tomorrow." Mr. Paulus' address will deal with possibilities of lighting conveniences of the future. During the evening he will show slides of modern and proper lighting arrangements. The subject is timely and of interest to those of us who must constantly use our eyes for close work.

The program committee recommends Mr. Paulus to us as an accomplished speaker, and we will be happy to greet him.

REVA GORMLEY, Secretary.

William H. Gray Files Suit Against R. J. Totten And A. W. Thompson

William H. Gray of Pulaski township has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against R. J. Totten and A. W. Thompson of New Wilmington, in which he asks for $300 damages to his automobile as a result of a peculiar accident.

Gray says that defendants own a lot in New Bedford on which there is erected a two-story brick building, a part of which is occupied by the New Bedford telephone exchange, which is opposite the postoffice.

In front of the building there was a maple shade tree about two feet in diameter. It is claimed that the shade tree was partly decayed. Gray drove with his two daughters to New Bedford and parked his car opposite the brick building owned by the defendants while he went into the postoffice.

While he was absent the big maple tree fell across the road and struck the automobile. Before the accident Gray says his car was worth $350, and after it but $50. It does not appear that anyone was injured.

Gray alleges that it had been known for some time that the tree was in a decayed condition. There was a wind blowing at the time of the accident, but not an extraordinarily high wind. His contention is that the owners of the property should not have permitted the tree to become a hazard.

The late Allies should know from experience that the quickest way to tame Italy is to let her go ahead and win a war.

Damages Asked In Two Actions Against Driver

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frew And Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Horseman Sue Johnson Bros.

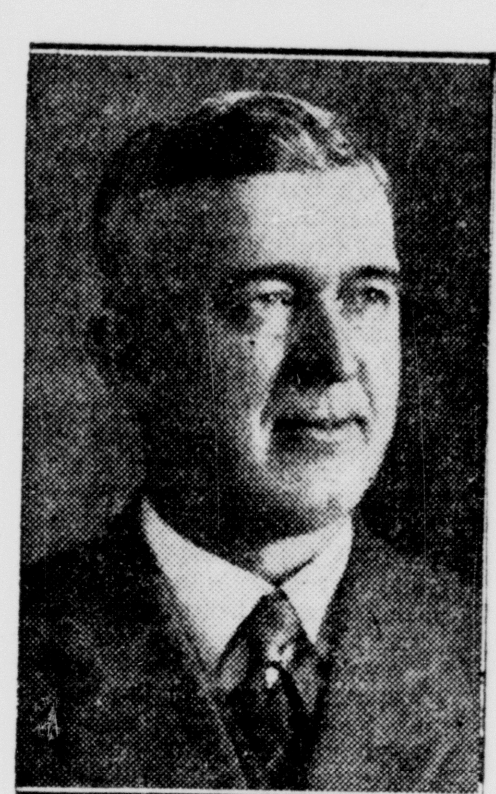

Sarah B. Frew and Joseph Frew, of 609 North Cedar street, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Charles A. Johnson of Slippery Rock, and Harry L. Johnson of 704 Croton avenue, this city, trading as Johnson Bros., in which they ask $3,784.72 damages for injuries sustained in an automobile accident on the Mercer-Slippery Rock road.

In the statement of claim it is alleged that the Johnson Bros. operate a sand and gravel bank near Grove City. The Frews were driving south on the Mercer-Slippery Rock road, and when a short distance north of North Liberty a truck belonging to the defendants and operated by Charles Johnson came out of a side road leading to Grove City and struck the Frew car on the left side, knocking it off the road and overturning it several times.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Frew were seriously injured and their car was badly wrecked. They alleged that the truck was being operated at a high and dangerous rate of speed.

Harriet M. and H. H. Horseman, of Slippery Rock were guests in the Frew car, and they have also filed a suit against the Johnson Bros., in which they ask for $6,225 damages,

DAVIES FOR COUNCIL

The Act of Assembly, commonly known as the Third Class City Code, provides for Initiative and Referendum on certain matters of legislation. Under its provisions, if twenty per cent of the number of voters, who cast their votes for the election of a Mayor at the last election, petition the Council, they shall have the right to put all such matters of legislation on the ballot to be passed upon by the voters. By a technical exception in the law, requisite to prevent the voters from vetoing necessary expenditures for the maintenance of government, this right of petition is not guaranteed to the people on questions of finance.

Nevertheless there was presented to Council a petition signed by 5915 voters of the city, asking that the question of a bond issue be submitted to the voters of the city this fall. The number of voters for Mayor in 1931 was 10,701, so that this petition represented 55% of those voters.

Whether I think a bond issue at this time is expedient is not the question raised by this petition. Whether I think a municipal distributing plant for electric light is advantageous, is not the question. Whether I believe that to vote on the bond issue is the best way to procure for the people of the city a just and uniform system of electric rates, is not either the question.

I represent all of the people of the city, and I have no right to set my opinion against the wishes of a majority of the people, nor have I any right to refuse to heed the demands of any considerable minority. In fact, I believe that I must, and I have always endeavored to give consideration to the ideas of any citizen, who approaches me honestly and sincerely with his ideas, of what is best for the whole city.

The question raised by this petition, therefore, was whether 55% of the voters, when they asked to have an expression of opinion of all the voters, in the way provided by law for such expression, on a subject that concerns the whole electorate of the city, are entitled to be heard. The question is one of free speech.

Had the Council refused to submit the question to all the people, it would have been an arbitrary exercise of discretion, and would have denied to the petitioners as well as to every other voter, their opportunity to speak authoritatively on this subject, which, the very interest now manifest in its outcome, designates as of most vital importance to the whole community.

If a majority of the voters oppose the bond issue, they will express themselves accordingly, in the way the Council and the Law of the Commonwealth has provided for such expression.

The Council has not the authority, and has not attempted to bond the city for the purpose now proposed. The question is with the people, and the only possible objection that could be made to the action taken by me and my colleagues, is that we have submitted a public question to the public franchise. He who asserts that we have done wrong, must assert that the voters are not capable, and ought not to be allowed to pass on this subject or to say what they wish in the matter.

I have received the Republican Nomination for re-election, and I am grateful for the confidence and trust, which that nomination indicates. However, there are some now who are opposed to the bond issue and who believe that the voters should not have been given the opportunity to say whether they favor it or disapprove it. For that reason, and for that alone, they are undertaking to defeat me at the election.

If you believe in representative, democratic government, with the right of the people to be heard at all times, I may expect your support for what I have done. If you believe in despotic government and want to elect someone, who will make up his own mind and then proceed as a dictator, denying to the people the right to be heard when their will might not be his will or the will of his masters, then I cannot expect your approval.

I still have confidence in the people, and in the voters of New Castle, and am confident that you will support me for having been willing to take counsel of you as to what is best to do in a very important public matter.

Some of my detractors, realizing that most voters will not condemn a man for having been willing to let the voters speak, are whispering rumors that I have promised to appoint a man, who is now holding an important public office, to be Chief of the Fire Department. That rumor is not true. I have made no such promise, and the story is being circulated solely for the purpose of camouflaging the real reason which certain persons and interests have for desiring my defeat.

I solicit your continued confidence and support.

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS CHANEY 47-0

Touchdown Parade By "Red Hurricane"

New Castle Piles Up Seven Touchdowns And Safety On Youngstown

Laterals And Forward Passes Give Bridenbaugh Team Big Edge

WITH a bewildering assortment of double and triple laterals, accurate forward passes and a powerful running attack, New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" football team smothered Chaney high of Youngstown under a 47 to 0 score last night at Taggart stadium.

It was the biggest New Castle score in the past few years. Seven touchdowns and a safety provided the points. A crowd of perhaps 4,000 sat in the stands and marveled at the aerial display of the Phil Bridenbaugh machine.

It is doubtful if a more wide open game of football has ever played here. Never before have the fans had this thrills and chills of last night. Long runs for touchdowns, blocking of punts, laterals flying all over the field, forward passes zinging here and there. A New Castle guard, Paul Small, was even pressed into service to help score a touchdown on a lateral pass, and the youngster raced about 55 yards thru a sea of bewildered Chaneyites.

Chaney high offered little resistance to the New Castle high team. The visitors from Ohio made three first downs, two of them on penalties and one earned. They could not get their offensive attack started through the big New Castle team. The Ohioans tried to forward pass a few—to be exact they heaved 12 forwards and made two of them. New Castle was even superior in passing, making 7 out of 19, having one intercepted.

New Castle scored in the first few minutes of play. Taking the kickoff, and with Engs and Donegan running right and left ends and DeCaprio hitting the center of the line, soon gained the six-yard line, where DeCaprio fumbled and Chaney recovered. Kovak stepped back to kick and Adamo intercepted and blocked the ball. The ball sailed high in the air and over the fence. The officials were rather non-plussed about this one, as the ball could not be fielded, and so they gave New Castle a safety of two points.

Toscano Scores On Pass.

The first touchdown came ere the first period had drawn to a close, with Johnnie Cabas heaving a forward pass to Harry "Kaiser" Toscano good for 35 yards and a touchdown. The star left end ran like a scared deer after taking the well thrown pass out of the air. The try for an extra point was no good. New Castle 8, Chaney 0. The first period ended in a very few moments.

When the second quarter began, Chaney had the ball on their own 19-yard line, having intercepted a pass from the DeCaprio. After an exchange of punts Cabas flipped another deadly aerial to Toscano and the South Side boy, again running fast, took the ball over his shoulder and scampered to the 1-yard line before he was dragged down. It was a pass of about 30 yards and Toscano raced the remaining 20 almost to the goal line. The play started from the Chaney 44-yard line. Tony Perrett, sub for Donegan, took the ball over on the next play. The try for extra point was blocked. New Castle 14, Chaney 0.

Eddie Donegan Scores.

Before the second period ended New Castle had two more touchdowns in the bag, one coming when Eddie Donegan took the ball on the Chaney 48 yard line and zigzagged his way through a swarm of grey and red jerseyed Chaney men for 11 touchdowns. A pass, Cabas to DeCaprio, gave New Castle an extra point. New Castle 21, Chaney 0.

The third touchdown of the period came when New Castle recovered a

Junior Varsity Tops Washington

Paul And Micaletti Score Touchdowns In 12 To 0 Victory

With an assortment of plays that had the George Washington high eleven befuddled, the New Castle Junior Varsity won last night at Taggart Stadium in the preliminary game 12 to 0. The touchdowns for the Junior Varsity were scored by Paul and Micaletti. The Junior varsity is coached by Bill Klee.

Micaletti proved himself one of the outstanding performers in the game ripping off many nice gains. The Junior Varsity had 15 first downs and allowed the Washingtons only one.

For the Carrollmen the playing of Tanner, Fraser, Stevenson and Maloney featured.

Visitors Rally.

The remainder of the third period found the Chaney high team showing more signs of life. Chaney elected to receive the ball on the kickoff this time, and they opened up with a flurry of passes and plays with Kovak, Brusko and Kaufman making a first down, but the flurry was short-lived and New Castle got the ball on a punt. The period ended 40 to 0 in favor of New Castle.

With the fourth period under way Coach Phil Bridenbaugh pulled his regulars out of the lineup and sent in the second and third stringers and when the game ended the New Castle third team was on the field.

Engs Scores Seventh.

The seventh and final touchdown was made by Robert "Flash" Engs, after Cox and Engs had re-entered the game and started the fireworks going. New Castle got the ball on an exchange of punts and then Cabas flipped a pass to Engs, who raced to the Chaney three-yard line. On the next play Engs went over for his touchdown. The pass from Cabas to Engs was good for 42 yards. The pass was very well thrown and well taken by the colored flash. Cabas booted the extra point and the game ended soon afterwards with New Castle 47 and Chaney 0.

New Castle rolled up 15 first downs to three for the visitors. New Castle was penalized plenty, Chaney very little.

Cabas Outstanding.

In passing out the orchids for outstanding plays we must not overlook Johnnie Cabas, the man behind the "gun" in those intricate forward passes. Toscano, Cox, Engs, Small, Donegan, the two big tackles all come in for their share of the plaudits, also "Blackie" Adamo, the courageous center who blocked that punt for a safety.

For the Chaney team the playing of Kovak, Brusko, Sardich and Brandovich featured.

State Gridders Face Lehigh In Tough Contest

Pitt Goes To South Bend To Battle Notre Dame Today

TECH-TEMPLE AT PITTSBURGH

By VICTOR J. JACOBS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—Scenes approximating gravity will intermingle with the cheers as the armored gridders of Pennsylvania's colleges skip out on the field today for the current portion of the season's schedule.

At Philadelphia, the Penn varsity doubtless will be obsessed by the thought of being shadowed by their critical undergraduates as they strive to avoid another last-half bogdown and crash the win column at the expense of Columbia University's Lions.

State Vs. Lehigh

Not so much the play as the "de-emphasis" football policy under Athletic Director Hugo Bezdek is under student fire at Penn State as the "hungry" Nittany Lions, for whom the school publication editorially demanded more than one meal a day, stake an untarnished but not overly impressive record against a topnotch troupe of engineers from Lehigh.

Traveling at a fast gait, Temple stops at Pittsburgh today to take on the troublesome, but comparatively harmless Carnegie Tech Tartans. Coach Andy Kerr's Raiders of Colgate will be seeking revenge for a defeat last week when they tackle a discouraged Lafayette eleven at Easton. Lafayette was the victim of two big upsets on successive week-ends.

Business Men Golfers Will Dine Tuesday

Business Men Golfers league banquet will be held Tuesday night at the Municipal golf course club house, it was announced today. The dinner will start at 7 o'clock. An interesting program has been mapped out for the entertainment of the golfers.

The dinner is open to all men who played in the Business Men's league during the past summer. The Bankers won the championship and will be given individual awards.

COLT STANDS ERECT ON ITS HIND LEGS

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga.—A colt that stood erect on its hind legs like a human being was produced by a thoroughbred mare in Oglethorpe county. Perfect in every detail otherwise, the colt, by some freak of nature, was born without front legs and was forced to balance its slim body in a semi-erect position. It lived for 26 hours.

The league is afraid to rule against land-grabbing. Some crank might try to make the rule retroactive.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—An inkling of how Babe Risko has been putting in his time since winning the middleweight championship several weeks ago will be outlined for the boxing clientele when the ex-Syracuse globe fighter, Chester Palutis, Scranton strong boy, in a non-title bout at Scranton Monday.

If the curly-headed Pole, who looks more the part of a cinema hero than a ring veteran, has been punching the bag since ascending the throne and not idling on his laurels, he should encounter little trouble from Palutis in his first exhibition as a champion.

Risko will be returning to the same Scranton ring where he rose from obscurity to the threshold of national interest 10 months ago by kayo-ing the then champion, Teddy Yarosz, in an exhibition match.

It was Babe's showing in that battle that eventually led to the rematch in Pittsburgh, where he defeated Yarosz.

The P. I. A. A., through its district 11 committee, showed it will demand strict adherence to scholastic athletic rules when the sectional board fined Ashland $10 for failure to consult Lansford about selection of officials for the schools' football game last Saturday, even though Ashland representatives excused it as an oversight.

Scotland Lane High Team Is Impressive In Contest Played At Emlenton

GAME IS PLAYED FRIDAY AFTERNOON

(Special To The News)

EMLENTON, Pa., Oct. 19.—Functioning like a Swiss clock, an impressive gridiron eleven, flaunting the colors of Union high, New Castle ran rough shod over Emlenton high team here, Friday afternoon. The final score, Union 32, Emlenton 14.

Shortly after the start of the contest, Union took the ball well down the field and through a series of plunges by Eve, Denney and Annarella, scored, Denney carrying the oval over. Each grider made from 8 to 10 yards on every play. The first quarter ended with Union leading 6-0.

Annarella scored the second Union touchdown and Annarella, from the 10 yard mark, carried the pigskin across the goal line for the third Union high score. The half found the Coach Boyd machine leading 18-0.

At the start of the third chapter, Eve and Denney, for Union, brought the ball to mid-field. Annarella sliced his way through center for 10 yards. On the next play, he tossed a perfect lateral to Pattison who ran the remaining 40 yards for a touchdown. It was a well executed play. Again in the same period, the Scotland Lancers crossed their opponents goal line on a 30 yard scamper by Denney. Coach Boyd injected his entire second team at this point.

Emlenton tallied its two scores in the last period. Carr, fullback, thrilled the gathering with a 60 yard run for a touchdown. This same Carr, took the ball and zipped his way through the entire Unionites for 40 yards and a second touchdown, a short time later. The final score, Union 32-Emlenton, 14.

King, Rudesell, Pattison, Kelley and Fulton played well for the Unionites. Pizer, Lynn and Graham were outstanding for the losers.

Next Friday afternoon, at Union high, Union opposes Zelenople high at 3:30 o'clock.

"Dizzy" Dean Is Aroused At Small Crowd

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 19.—The anticipated frenzied rush of baseball fans which fell far short of reality today sent Jerome "Dizzy" Dean Texas-bound with a one line description of New Orleans and Chattanooga.

"There's the two louiest towns I've ever been in."

The mellow description came after the Cardinal pitcher took a look at the scant crowd of 300 fans in Chattanooga and refused to pitch. Only 200 showed up in New Orleans. Again the pitcher refused to pitch.

Penn State and Lehigh, both undefeated this season, are scheduled to clash at State College this afternoon. Both teams will be without the services of two regulars. Bill Cooper, fullback, and Frank Smith, left end, are on Penn State's injured list. Maysharp, left end, and McCoy, halfback, are on the list of injured brown and white players.

Bob Latera yesterday turned another milestone and some of his friends gathered to help celebrate the occasion. They were Jimmie Dime, Jimmie Dunn, "Big" Young, Harry Flinn, Charlie Garbett, Ray Ruttle and the writer. The two D's recited some of their most interesting ring tales during the evening.

Three Bands At Football Game

The football fans had the thrill last night of seeing three big bands combine and march down Taggart Stadium field. There must have been about 150 in the three bands at the game last night.

The New Castle High band was present. The Chaney High band came over with the team, and the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion band was present at the game. Between halves the three bands combined and made a brilliant appearance on the field.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 18. Four arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 2 and parking violations 2.

Remodelling will soon start on the second floor of the city building annex. One of the rooms will be converted into a court-room for youths. All of the slot machines and other articles taken into custody by police during the past year which were stored in the upstairs of the annex building have been removed to other quarters. There is there yet a cupboard which formerly contained articles such as knives, revolvers, brass knuckles. If the cupboard could talk it would tell many stories, most of them serious.

Chief of Police John Haven is chagrined that some boys have not played the game as sportsmanlike as they are qualified. During the past week or more there has been a surge of rowdiness not only on the thoroughfares but also in some buildings. Speakers have been hooted and patrons of shows have been pelted with programs. Wednesday night police received almost a score of requests for service from different sections, the complaints being to the effect that tomatoes were being hurled at pedestrians and automobiles.

Council chambers, city building, will be an interesting place Monday night as six dozen young men of the city will take the mental test to become city policemen. It is the largest number ever to take the examination, according to reports. Should an applicant pass the test he will be ordered to undergo a physical examination. It is not known when appointments will be made to the department of police. The civil service board consists of Dr. L. W. Wilson, Professor Frank L. Orth and J. Lee McFate. Attorney Ralph Cooper is the secretary to the board.

Personals

An ad inserted under the "Personal" heading differs from other classifications much the same as a person-to-person telephone call differs from a station-to-station connection.

Business and professional men who have some special message for clients often make use of this column. The ad inserted by a prospective traveler who desires a companion to share expenses to some given point is familiar to every one. People desiring to get in touch with missing friends and relatives also make use of this classification.

Don't overlook the possibilities of this useful division of the classified ads.

Wide Spread Gains In Market Follows Overtures For European Peace

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Wide spread gains in stocks in today's market followed overtures for peace in the Italian-Ethiopian conflict and for an agreement between Italy and Great Britain.

Speculative favorites like J. I. Case, which jumped over 3 points, Chrysler up 2, Westinghouse Electric up 1 1/2, and Western Union up 1 1/2 to a new 1935 high were features of the market.

There was also considerable interest in the U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors and Packard Motors.

Earnings statements continued to show increases and predictions are highly optimistic. Trade reviews were encouraging. Railroad traffic is moving at a better rate.

Utilities also shared in today's upturn.

Commodities, however, sold off on the prospect of a peaceful settlement of European troubles. Wheat cracked 3 cents, while cotton declined 3/4 cent.

In the bond market, the buying of foreign obligations was a feature. Gold currencies and Sterling turned strong.

THE ENDURING GAIN

A champion is the strongest man and for the moment best of kind. But always one to conquer him is thundering on not far behind. Today the crown is his to wear, but soon or late will come the day. When one of stouter heart and limb will snatch the jeweled thing away.

A champion for a little while perhaps may strike the hardest blow. May run the fastest on the earth, the highest jump, the farthest throw. But time will take this gift away and pass it down to younger men. And when ex-champions men become this question rises off: What then?

What is there Time cannot destroy and younger warriors take away? What is there best a man can be which to the end of life will stay?

Since sight grows dim and muscles tire and flesh no longer heeds the will. How can a man grow old with years and by all who know him honored still?

'Tis not by championships alone that men upon the earth succeed. Men's lasting admiration grows from many a simple, kindly deed.

And he who serves as best he can, stays friendly, cheerful, brave and true. Though missing championships will gain goodwill to last his lifetime through.

Dear Sir:

Eight years ago, we left New Castle for Illinois to help build a powder mill for the Grasselli Company. When the mill was completed, they sold out to the DuPont Company, and I am still with them and have been fortunate to have a job right through the depression.

The mill is situated about 75 miles southwest of Chicago along the Illinois river. We have a town of 5,600 right on the river and it is a bustling little place.

We have had the best safety record of any mill in the world, having been operating continuously for 2,486 days without a single man losing an hour's work on account of injuries.

This is a great farming country. The soil is from two to six feet deep, a rich black loam. They never put any fertilizer on it, just farm it year after year. They had the best corn I ever saw this year. When it rains, the ground gets like putty and sticks to one's feet. We had a good year this year, with plenty of rain. At Nazon, 14 miles south of here, it rained nine inches in less than 24 hours.

This is a good place to fish, but I won't tell you the size of the fish I caught, as you wouldn't believe me.

Say Fred, if you had The News out here, you could get $10 a year for it. We pay six dollars a year for the Morris Herald and only get three sheets. I enclose check for $250 for my subscription to The News. We have taken it ever since we came out here and could not get along without it.

Your Old Friend,
